

Did you know the monarch butterfly may take five generations to make their migration?
Think of that unspoken sacrifice

Like my abuelos who left behind their home, their communities, their belongings Without looking back
All they could think of was "one day, un dia, my child could be anything they want to be"

Did you know the monarch butterfly may take
five generations to make their migration?
Think of that unspoken sacrifice